HELP OF MILLION SOLDIERS VOWED AGAINST HITLER

Germany Offers to Negotiate With Powers; to Retain Troops

RATIFICATION IS NEAR

Nazi Offer to Send No More Troops Into Zone May Be Considered

LONDON—Cabinet meets to omit British people on course in treaty negotiations today and Hague council meeting Saturday. Ministers veering toward support of France.

PARIS—Senate slaps at Hitler
by preparing rapid ratification of Russian military alliance; chamber may adjourn to give government free hand in Rhineland crisis.

BERLIN—Effort to impose penalties for Rhineland violation will isolate Germany from all European councils, German leaders warn; hope seen that British moderation will win in London talks;
country awaits Hitler's speech today.

ROME—Italy remains on sidelines in Rhineland crisis, waiting until its help is needed to force
terms on Ethiopia war.

PARIS, March 12 (UP)—
France made its first reply today to Nazi Germany and its Rhineland army—arrangement for lightning ratification of a treaty that will bring 1,300,000 Russian soldiers, the world's greatest army, to her aid if Germany attacks.

This French-Russian military alliance was the excuse for Adolf Hitler's occupation of the Rhineland.

In answer, senators assembled today to jam the ratification through tonight as a symbol of national unity by an almost unanimous vote if not in complete unani-mity. The chamber already has ratified.

Cabinet Shown Confidence
As the senate met, chamber leaders talked of adjourning until March 19, as a sign of confidence in the cabinet in whose hands is entrusted the country's fate.

President Fernand Bouissou was expected to suggest the adjourn-

LIBBY TO OBTAIN HUGE SUM FROM WEALTHY ESTATE

BALTIMORE, Md., March 12.
(UP)—Circuit Court Judge Eli Frank today ratified a proposed settlement of the Z. Smith Reynolds will case under which Libby Holman Reynolds will receive $750,000 and her infant son approximately $7,000,000.

The terms were those outlined by the Superior court of Forsythe-co, N. C., where relatives of the late Smith Reynolds reached agreement some months ago on disposition of his estate. The settlement, however, required ratification by Maryland courts
because the Safe Deposit and Trust Company of Baltimore, was trustee.

The settlement provided that Ann Cannon Reynolds, II, daughter of Smith Reynolds by his first wife, will receive approximately $10,000,000 while a similar amount will be divided between Reynolds brothers and sisters.

Value of the estate was approximately $28,000,000. It was the quarter share of the estate of the late R. J. Reynolds, tobacco magnate, left to his son under trust
until the son should reach the age of 28.

PAVING IS RESUMED
Paving was resumed on S.
Court-st Thursday morning in front of the postoffice building.

Sues Mdivani Heirs

SEEKING compensation for injuries received when she was seriously injured and Prince Alexis Mdivani killed in an auto accident, and for loss of jewels mysteriously missing after the crash, Baroness Maud von Thyssen has filed suit for $400,000 against the Mdivani heirs at Berlin. Before she was out of the hospital Baron von Thyssen, a multimillionaire, filed suit for divorce, naming the dead prince,
former husband of Barbara Hutton, as co-respondent.

HOFFMAN DENIES REPRIEVE PLAN

Governor Says He Will Not Attempt to Save Bruno

TRENTON, N. J., March 12.
(UP)—With the deadline for a "legal" reprieve for Bruno Richard Hauptmann only a few hours away Gov. Harold Hoffman today reiterated that he had no intention of ordering another stay for the Lindbergh baby killer.

"I have no intention, now, of granting a reprieve," the Governor said. "I first made this announcement on Jan. 17 and I have never indicated any change."

The governor's statement was viewed as dooming Hauptmann unless startling new evidence warrants another appearance before the board of pardons or a second trial. Since this is admittedly a forlorn hope the German carpenter is virtually certain to die in the state prison death house at about 8 p. m., March 31.

Gov. Hoffman contends that his power to reprieve extends until midnight—That is 90 days from the resentencing last December
after high court appeals failed.
Most lawyers hold that the reprieve power expires 90 days after the first conviction and that Hauptmann was found guilty
more than a year ago in Flemington.

PICKAWAY EDUCATORS TO GATHER SATURDAY

ington-twp school.

director of education, will speak
but his topic has not been announced.

The invocation will be given by Rev. L. S. Metzler, Circleville, and the musical program by Washington-twp school pupils. Music

grade choruses, the girl's chorus and elderfer and Forest Croman.

C. Adams.

CANDIDATES FEARING JINX, FILE PETITIONS

Superstition has its part in politics.
Numerous candidates filed their petitions Thursday with Harry Well, deputy clerk of the Board of Elections. The complete list of petitions will be announced Saturday.

The deadline for filing is 6:30
p. m. "Friday the Thirteenth."
Members of the board will meet at 1:30 p. m. Saturday to consider the petitions.

WEST AND OHIO CHIEFS DISCUSS DELEGATE PLAN

Four Agreed on in Compromise; Hanefeld, Julian to Be Selected

COLUMBUS, March 12.—(UP)
—A compromise between the national and Ohio administrations on selection of delegates-at-large to the Democratic national convention
at Philadelphia was being worked
out today by Charles West, undersecretary of the interior and President Roosevelt's "contact
man" in Ohio.

West, conferring with state
Democratic leaders here today,
said that delegates agreed upon
to date were Senators Robert J.
Buttkley and Vic Donahey, former Governor George White and West.
Young in Denial

Asked if retirement of Congressman Stephen M. Young of Cleveland from the governor's
race was a condition of the Ohio-
Roosevelt agreement, West said:
"We have absolutely nothing to do with that."

Rumors that he would withdraw
from his race with Governor Dovey for the nomination were denied by Young in Cleveland. He said the reports were started by his opponents.

The present plan of selecting Ohio delegates-at-large calls for
six delegates with a full vote each,
and four with a half vote each.
The other two who would have a
full vote under this plan would be
State Director Earl H. Hanefeld
and W. A. Julian, Cincinnati, U. S. treasurer.

The four delegates with a half
vote each probably would be W.
W. Durbin, Kenton, registrar of the treasury; Ann Makley of Dayton, Mrs. Margaret Allan, state welfare director, and M. R. Denver
of Wilmington.

FRIDAY NO JINX TO 'CHUTE MAN; HE'LL PROVE IT

WASHINGTON, March 12.—
(UP)—Friday the 13th holds no terrors for Louis A. Barr, parachute jumper, and he'll prove it tomorrow.

At Beacon airport near Alexandria, Va., Barr will:
Break a mirror.
Take the third light from a match.

Walk under a ladder.
Allow a black cat to cross
his path.
Have his picture taken before entering a plane (considered one of the worst of ill omens).

Enter the plane from the right side (still more unlucky, if possible).
Take a black cat in the cockpit with him.
Make his 13th parachute jump,
delayed leap.

And drop 13,000 feet before opening his 'chute.

MORGENTHAU IMPROVED

Morgenthau, Jr., who has been ill
for the last few days, was reportedly improved today. He was expected back at his desk next week.

10 HORSES DIE, LOSS IS $7,000 IN BARN FLAMES

Scioto Livestock Sales Co.,
Chillicothe, Scene of Disaster

YARDS DESTROYED, TOO

Sheriff, Police Chief Investigate Possibility of Incendiarism

CHILLICOTHE, March 12.—A fire which destroyed barns and yards of the Scioto Livestock Sales Co. here was estimated today to have caused $7,000 damage.

Ten horses, consigned here from Cleveland for auction, burned to death last night. They were valued at $2,000.

Other stock was removed from the barns to safety.
Sheriff Joe Vincent and Police Chief Ben Rout immediately started an investigation considering the possibility that the fire was of incendiary origin.

The loss was said to be covered by insurance.
Livestock sales are conducted weekly in the Scioto Co. barns, attracting hundreds of central and southcentral Ohio dealers.

Deputy Tells Rotarians Of Danger on Highways

Fissell Shows More Wrecks on Straight Roads and That 92 Per Cent of Accidents Take Place During Daytime; Figures Disclose Interesting Comparisons

"Behind a desk, a business man is level headed and his first consideration is the happiness and security of his family, but he becomes a gambler with the lives of his family and everyone else on the highway."

Miller Fissell, deputy sheriff, made this statement to Rotarians
Thursday noon in an address on "Safety on the Highway."
Most on "Straight Ahead"

Interesting statistics presented by Mr. Fissell revealed more accidents occurred on the "straight ahead" road than any other part of the highway; between 25
and 64 years is the careless age;
more accidents happen on clear days than dark, Saturday ranks first as accident day, and Sunday
second; one third of all the accidents are caused by too much speed and 13 per cent by reckless driving. Ninety two per cent of the accidents occur in daytime.

Mr. Fissell reported, 380,000 persons died in auto accidents in this country from 1922 to 1935.

PLEDGE SAFETY HELP
Rotarians voted Thursday to indorse the American Legion's Safety campaign, opening April 15, and pledged themselves to assist the police department in its drive to clear the local parking and traffic situation.

and this figure exceeds by about 55 per cent the record of men who were killed in action or died of wounds in all wars in which this country has participated.
During 1935, auto deaths totalled 36,100 as compared to 35,769 in the previous year. The number of persons injured in auto accidents during those two years was 895,280. Ohio had 9,240 accidents in which 720 persons were killed and 7,517 injured. An Ohio map marking the accidents of

RUBBER STRIKE VOTE SATURDAY

Secret Ballot May End 24-
Day Strike in Akron

AKRON, March 12.—(UP)— Preparations for a secret ballot
on the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company's proposal to end the strike that has blockaded its plants here for 24 days were made today by the United Rubber Workers' union.

The vote will be taken Saturday, the union leaders said.

The company proposal offers to reinstale all workers as of Feb.
12; to meet the employees' representatives on grievances; to give notice of wage rate adjustments;
to establish a 36-hour week, 6-
hour day in tire rooms.

A producers' blockade which stopped home delivery of milk here almost a week ago was still in effect today. A strike of drivers at one dairy started the blockade.

BORAH-FOR-PRESIDENT CHIEF ASSAILS SCHORR

COLUMBUS, March 12.—(UP)
—Ed D. Schorr, Ohio Republican chairman, was criticized today by Bernard Amer, president of the Akron Borah-for-President club, for what he termed a "hush-hush policy."

Amer, in a statement given to the press, asked if the state Republican organization "has become so soft that it can no longer survive an honest primary contest."

"Why does Chairman Schorr set up a hue and cry about Senator William E. Borah disrupting Republican harmony in Ohio?" Amer asked.

"Does not Chairman Schorr in reality mean that Senator Borah's entrance into Ohio spoils Walter Brown's plan to sell the Ohio delegation to the highest bidder at the Cleveland convention? On the face of it the 'favorite son' plan is a dishonest one."

Publisher Asks Injunction Against Airing Letters

WASHINGTON, March 12.—
(UP)—Legal action against senate lobby committee methods spread today when William Randolph Hearst asked a District of Columbia Supreme court injunction to restrain the committee from examining telegraphic correspondence.

Hearst sought an order, similar to one granted yesterday to the Chicago law firm of Winston, Strawn & Shaw, to prevent Western Union Telegraph Co. from turning over copies of telegrams
to the lobby committee.
The suit was filed in the face of assertions by Sen. Hugo L.
Black, D. Ala., chairman of the committee, that the senate might not submit to the injunction and would take whatever steps it deemed necessary to defend procedure adopted by the investigating group.

A compromise between the na-

selection of delegates-at-large to
the Democratic national convention
at Philadelphia was being worked
out today by Charles West, un-
dersecretary of the interior and President Roosevelt's "contact
man" in Ohio.West, conferring with state Democratic leaders here today,
said that delegates agreed upon
to date were Senators Robert J.
Bulkeley and Vic Donahey, former Governor George White and West.Asked if retirement of Congressman Stephen M. Young of Cleveland from the governor's
race was a condition of the Ohio
Roosevelt agreement, West said:
"We have absolutely nothing to do with that."Rumors that he would withdraw
from his race with Governor Dovey for the nomination were denied by Young in Cleveland. He said the reports were started by his opponents.The present plan of selecting Ohio delegates-at-large calls for
six delegates with a full vote each,
and four with a half vote each.
The other two who would have a
full vote under this plan would be
State Director Earl H. Hanefeld
and W. A. Julian, Cincinnati, U. S.
treasurer.The four delegates with a half
vote each probably would be W.
W. Durbin, Kenton, registrar of
the treasury; Ann Makley of Day-
ton, Mrs. Margaret Allan, state
welfare director, and M. R. Denver
of Wilmington.FRIDAY NO JINX

AND ELY IN ATTEMPT TO ELECT F. D. R.

The Men, Seen as Possible Spotters, Add Strength to Primary Plans

WASHINGTON, March 12.—(UP)—Apparently authentic information available here today indicates the logical leaders among anti-New Deal Democrats have decided to abandon efforts to prevent President Roosevelt's re-nomination.

They are represented as believing a pre-convention "stop Roosevelt" movement would be futile.

Boiling leaders usually have three choices. They may join the enemy or they may organize a party of their own as did Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 and the late Robert M. La Follette in 1924. Roosevelt and La Follette took the big, spectacular chance and lost.

Tydings in Fold

First pre-assurance to New Deal leaders was last week's pledge of loyalty from Sen. Millard E. Tydings. He is not classed precisely as an anti-New Dealer. But Tydings has been on the conservative, critical fringe of the New Deal during most of Mr. Roosevelt's experiments. Tydings qualified his Roosevelt endorsement with a warning that Maryland wants a re-affirmation of traditional Democratic ideals.

More significant in revealing the attitude of unqualifiedly anti-New Deal Democrats was yesterday's announcement from former Gov. Joseph S. Ely of Massachusetts. He said he had decided not to oppose instruction of the Bay State convention delegation for Mr. Roosevelt.

Ely's decision was revealed after New Hampshire Democrats rebuffed an insignificant anti-New Deal movement in the presidential primary in that state. Delegate candidates opposing the New Deal were swamped.

Followed Confab

The statement by Massachusetts' former Governor implied his decision was prompted by result of the New Hampshire primary. Ely met secretary last week in New York with Alfred E. Smith, Baltimore Colby, who was secretary of state in the Wilson cabinet, and former Sen. James A. Reed of Missouri. The United Press was informed they discussed "stop Roosevelt" plans.

Mosquito Horde Expected To Hit Pickaway-co Again

Ohio Experiment Station Expert Selects Counties in Which Pests Will Be Predominant

Last summer Pickaway-co was host to hordes of mosquitos, and this year residents are promised another pest to "entertain."

The periodical cicada, commonly called the 17-year locust, is scheduled to make its regular appearance here in large numbers.

According to J. S. Houser, Chief of the Department of Entomology of the Ohio Experiment Station, records on file at the Wooster institution indicate that this strange insect may be abroad in the following counties this season:

Lucas, Huron, Seneca, Hancock, Putnam, Van Wert, Allen, Wyandot, Crawford, Morrow, Marion, Auglaize, Mercer, Shelby, Logan, Union, Delaware, Champaign, Miami, Darke, Preble, Montgomery, Clarke, Madison, Franklin, Fairfield, Pickaway, Fayette, Greene, Clinton, Warren, Butler, Hamilton, Jackson and Gallia. This forecast is based on the fact that the insect appeared in the counties listed in 1919.

Heavier in West

The counties in the western part of the group are likely to experience the heaviest infestation, and the cicadas are expected to be scarce in Fairfield, Jackson and Gallia counties. They are due to appear in late May or early June and to continue abroad for a period of six weeks. Orchards growing near woodlands are more likely to be damaged than are others more distant.

The chief economic damage caused by the periodical cicada is the mutilation of the branches of fruit trees during the process of egg laying. Branches so weakened may be broken by the wind and in instances of severe damage trees from one to three years of age may lose the greater portion of their branches in this manner.

Orchardists located within the area to be visited by the pest may in part avoid the damage. Bearing trees should be pruned lightly and non-bearing trees should not be pruned at all. By leaving an abundance of wood in the trees, growers are afforded a better opportunity during the late summer or following spring when the most severely injured and broken branches are removed to reshape the trees. The application of fertilizer of a character to produce a vigorous wood growth is likewise of value.

Heavier in West

In 1919, when this brood of cicadas last visited Ohio some orchardists found it practicable to protect newly planted or one-year-old trees near woodlands by wrapping paper about the trunks and encasing the tops in mosquito netting when the first cicadas made their appearance. A very small amount of a cheap grade of netting is required for each tree, particularly if the branches are drawn together and secured with a stout cord. The netting must be left in place until the cicadas disappear. Because of the cheapness of this protective measure, there is no reason why those who contemplate planting young orchards this spring should not do so.

PERSONS DELAYING TAX PAYMENTS ARE WARNED

Pickaway-co's "put it off" residents are headed for a grand rush in filing their personal tax returns.

Last year about 3,200 personal tax returns were filed and so far this year only 600 have been listed, employees of the county auditor's office announced Wednesday.

They urged residents to file their returns as quickly as possible. The last day for filing will be March 31.

TYDINGS AND ELY JOIN IN ATTEMPT TO ELECT F. D. R.

Two Men, Seen as Possible Bolters, Add Strength to Primary Plans

WASHINGTON, March 12. — (UP) — Apparently authentic information available here today indicates the logical leaders among anti-New Deal Democrats have decided to abandon efforts to prevent President Roosevelt's re-nomination.

They are represented as believing a pre-convention "stop Roosevelt" movement would be futile.

Bolting leaders usually have three choices. They may seek in their tents. They may join the enemy or they may organize a party of their own as did Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 and the late Robert M. La Follette in 1924. Roosevelt and La Follette took the big, spectacular chance and lost.

Tydings in Fold

First pre-assurance to New Deal leaders was last week's pledge of loyalty from Sen. Millard E. Tydings. He is not classed precisely as an anti-New Dealer. But Tydings has been on the conservative, critical fringe of the New Deal during most of Mr. Roosevelt's experiments. Tydings qualified his Roosevelt endorsement with a warning that Maryland wants a re-affirmation of traditional Democratic ideals.

More significant in revealing the attitude of unqualifiedly anti-New Deal Democrats was yesterday's announcement from former Gov. Joseph S. Ely of Massachusetts. He said we had decided not to oppose instruction of the Bay State convention delegation for Mr. Roosevelt.

Ely's decision was revealed after New Hampshire Democrats rebuffed an insignificant anti-New Deal movement in the presidential primary in that state. Delegate candidates opposing the New Deal were swamped.

Followed Confab

The statement by Massachusetts' former Governor implied his decision was prompted by result of the New Hampshire primary. Ely met secretary last week in New York with Alfred E. Smith, Bainbridge Colby, who was secretary of state in the Wilson cabinet, and former Sen. James A. Reed of Missouri. The United Press was informed they discussed "Stop Roosevelt" plans.

Mosquito Horde Expected To Hit Pickaway-co Again

Ohio Experiment Station Expert Selects Counties in Which Pests Will Be Predominant

Last summer Pickaway-co was host to hordes of mosquitos, and this year residents are promised another pest to "entertain."

The periodical cicada, commonly called the 17-year locust, is scheduled to make its regular appearance here in large numbers.

According to J. S. Houser, Chief of the Department of Entomology of the Ohio Experiment Station, records on file at the Wooster institution indicate that this strange insect may be abroad in the following counties this season:

Lucas, Huron, Seneca, Hancock, Putnam, Van Wert, Allen, Wyandot, Crawford, Morrow, Marion, Auglaize, Mercer, Shelby, Logan, Union, Delaware, Champaign, Miami, Darke, Preble, Montgomery, Clarke, Madison, Franklin, Fairfield, Pickaway, Fayette, Greene, Clinton, Warren, Butler, Hamilton, Jackson and Gallia. This forecast is based on the fact that the insect appeared in the counties listed in 1919.

Heavier in West

The counties in the western part of the group are likely to experience the heaviest infestation, and the cicadas are expected to be scarce in Fairfield, Jackson and Gallia counties. They are due to appear in late May or early June and to continue abroad for a period of six weeks. Orchards growing near woodlands are more likely to be damaged than are others more distant.

The chief economic damage caused by the periodical cicada is the mutilation of the branches of fruit trees during the process of egg laying. Branches so weakened may be broken by the wind and in instances of severe damage trees from one to three years of age may lose the greater portion of their branches in this manner. Orchardists located within the area to be visited by the pest may in part avoid the damage. Bearing trees should be pruned lightly and non-bearing trees should not be pruned at all. By leaving an abundance of wood in the trees, growers are afforded a better opportunity during the late summer or following spring when the most severely injured and broken branches are removed to reshape the trees. The application of fertilizer of a character to pro-

Heavier in West

In 1919, when this brood of cicadas last visited Ohio some orchardists found it practicable to protect newly planted or one-year-old trees near woodlands by wrapping paper about the trunks and encasing the tops in mosquito netting when the first cicadas made their appearance. A very small amount of a cheap grade of netting is required for each tree, particularly if the branches are drawn together and secured with a stout cord. The netting must be left in place until the cicadas disappear. Because of the cheapness of this protective measure, there is no reason why those who contemplate planting young orchards this spring should not do so.

PERSONS DELAYING TAX PAYMENTS ARE WARNED

Pickaway-co's "put it off" residents are headed for a grand rush in filing their personal tax returns.

Last year about 3,200 personal tax returns were filed and so far this year only 600 have been listed, employees of the county auditor's office announced Wednesday. They urged residents to file their returns as quickly as possible. The last day for filing will be March 31.

STRIKE AT PIQUA PLANT RESULTS IN ITS CLOSING

The total collected in the state since the first of the year is $7,474,144.53 as against $4,717,894.64 during the same period last year.

ment this afternoon. If the suggestion is approved, the chamber would meet again only to adjourn March 20 in preparation for national elections April 26. Some influential leaders suggested as an alternative, that the chamber remain in session but that the elections themselves be postponed. There was no indication anywhere that the country was not solidly behind the cabinet in demanding firm action against Germany. It was learned that the high military commission met yesterday in secret under the presidency of Premier Albert Sarraut to discuss aerial defense. Reports indicated that the sudden switch of British cabinet sentiment in favor of the French stand was due to the receipt of information that Germany was assembling large forces throughout the Rhineland and that some incident might start a fight. BERLIN, March 12—(UP)—Germany offered today to negotiate with France and Belgium and to refrain from sending any more troops into the Rhineland pending such negotiations. In the face of the adamant French and Belgian demands for withdrawal of the German troops, however, Germany did not offer to bring back the troops already there. Germany also proposed that France and Belgium refrain from increasing their border forces. If the offer is rejected, the statement said, Germany will withdraw it and choose isolation from the other powers of Europe. Germany, it was declared, "will never agree" to permanent conditions involving renunciation of any of her sovereign rights.

Tax Extender, Welfare Bill, Judges' Law Signed

COLUMBUS, March 12—(UP)—Governor Davey today had signed into law three bills passed in the recent brief session of the Ohio general assembly. The chief executive affixed his signature to the bills late yesterday shortly after the senate, in a skeletonized session, signed the bills and recessed indefinitely. The bills signed by the governor were: the cigaret tax extender which continues the tax on cigarettes to March 31, 1937, a bill appropriating $248,000 for a welfare building program and the judges "alley" bill, which requires a candidate for a common pleas judgeship to specify his opponent. The latter was an emergency measure. Secretary of State George S. Myers immediately notified all county boards of elections to require any candidate for common pleas judge who has already filed his nominating petitions to specify the term for which he is seeking nomination.

ment this afternoon. If the suggestion is approved, the chamber would meet again only to adjourn March 20 in preparation for national elections April 26.

Some influential leaders suggested as an alternative, that the chamber remain in session but that the elections themselves be postponed.

There was no indication anywhere that the country was not solidly behind the cabinet in demanding firm action against Germany.

It was learned that the high military commission met yesterday in secret under the presidency of Premier Albert Sarraut to discuss aerial defense.

Report New Forces

Reports indicated that the sudden switch of British cabinet sentiment in favor of the French stand was due to the receipt of information that Germany was assembling large forces throughout the Rhineland and that some incident might start a fight.

BERLIN, March 12—(UP)—Germany offered today to negotiate with France and Belgium and to refrain from sending any more troops into the Rhineland pending such negotiations.

In the face of the adamant French and Belgian demands for withdrawal of the German troops, however, Germany did not offer to bring back the troops already there.

Germany also proposed that France and Belgium refrain from increasing their border forces.

If the offer is rejected, the statement said, Germany will withdraw its troops and choose isolation from the other powers of Europe. Germany, it was declared, "will never agree" to permanent conditions involving renunciation of any of her sovereign rights.

DAVEY APPROVES THREE NEW BILLS

Tax Extender, Welfare Bill, Judges' Law Signed

COLUMBUS, March 12—(UP)—Governor Davey today had signed into law three bills passed in the recent brief session of the Ohio general assembly.

The chief executive affixed his signature to the bills late yesterday shortly after the senate, in a skeletonized session, signed the bills and recessed indefinitely.

The bills signed by the governor were: the cigaret tax extender which continues the tax on cigarettes to March 31, 1937, a bill appropriating $248,000 for a welfare building program and the judges "alley" bill, which requires a candidate for a common pleas judgeship to specify his opponent. The latter was an emergency measure.

Secretary of State George S. Myers immediately notified all county boards of elections to require any candidate for common pleas judge who has already filed his nominating petitions to specify the term for which he is seeking nomination.

A LOST RACE?

IN A period, some years ago, when agriculturists were more uncoddled than some modern critics now consider them to be, they raised large quantities of a variety of barley which had sharp, stinging spikes—for the thin skinned. This was particularly troublesome—but only for the thin-skinned—at threshing time.

According to Dr. Arnold S. Wahl, research specialist in matters relating to beer along came a generation of farmers who couldn't take it. They protested about these stiff beards on barley and called for help.

The State Agricultural Department of Minnesota, after extended experimentation, produced a cross-bred type of barley without spikes; a stingingless barley. Swiftly it displaced the old kind.

Since repeal of prohibition, Dr. Wahl finds, brewers have been worrying because some beer comes through their modern processes in good form, but some is poor. After much research, Dr. Wahl blames it on this dewhiskered barley. It does not, he insists, produce uniformly good beer.

So appeals are to be made to the United States Department of Agriculture to bring back resumption of cultivation of the old kind of barley which Dr. Wahl insists, played a vital part in making pre-war American beer the best in the world.

But where will they grow the tough-skinned farmers as of old to "wrasse" with spiky barley and not care a hoot?

IMPOTENT INTELLECTUALS

A NIPPONESE authority is quoted as saying that Japan will not go to war. "Ninety-nine per cent of Japan's intellectuals oppose it," he blandly remarks.

The trouble is that Japan's intellectuals aren't in the government saddle. The Mikado is tops, and he is vigorously supported by the militaristic clique of army and navy officers.

What chance would the intellectuals have of stopping a war if the Japanese jingoists and professional patrioters wanted it?

The answer is—no chance at, at least until the intellectuals become a great deal more numerous and powerful than they are at the present time.

Punctuation: An intricate art learned in the third grade and later supplanted by the use of dashes.

Inflation is held forth as a road to recovery, when, in reality, it's nothing but a crackpot method of robbing the middle class.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

Financial men in New York and London apparently do not fear war so much as something else in German quarters. That is, repudiation of debt-payment agreements—debts to bankers, not to governments.

The Reichsbank's reserves have fallen to a record low mark. There might have been an economic upheaval in Germany, as thoroughly regimented as it is, if Reichsbank Hitler had not raised German spirits by reoccupying the Rhineland with troops.

No outsider can appraise the economic situation of Germany—or Italy.

Both those nations require commodities (literally food to eat and basic elements for manufacture) from other nations. Commodity prices are rising steadily.

Only those who live in a nation short of raw resources can realize the strain, the ingenuity—and, eventually, the desperation.

Germany's creditors have not sold her all she has desired. They have feared that she has too much power to be trusted with such an extent she could refuse further payment of her debts.

Thus, though Germany has broken the fetters of the hated Versailles treaty, she still remains bound to her creditors—the largest of whom is Great Britain.

WAR? NO

If the matter is left for British bankers to decide—and they have considerable of a voice in the present Tory government—Great Britain will not back France too strongly against Germany.

A country at war doesn't pay its debts. Likewise, a nation too tightly bound doesn't pay its debts.

CONCERN OVER FRANCE
In regard to France, the real concern in financial circles is not so much over a war. The fear is that France, also, may become desperate financially.

France finally will have to go off the gold standard, it is believed. With the devaluation of the franc, readjustments of currency values may have to be made throughout the world. But how violent will

BILBO OPENS "DREAM HOUSE"

Theodore G. Bilbo, rabble-rousing Senator from Mississippi, opened his "dream house" at Poplarville some time ago, treating all who came to see him to 100 pounds of cheese, 800-five cent cigars, 600 tins of sardines, five gallons of dill pickles, and ten cases of crackers.

The house-warming was reminiscent of the Senator's one-time diet of sardines and crackers; and the "dream house" was the fulfillment of his dream to erect a mansion near the log cabin in which he was born.

The "dream house" contains twenty-seven rooms, and five bathrooms tiled in brilliant colors.

While the house was being built, Mrs. Bilbo was suing the Senator for non-support, claiming that he had not supported her for more than two years.

Because of political embarrassment to her husband, Mrs. Bilbo finally withdrew the suit, with the understanding that she receive an allowance. For a time this allowance was paid—$115 last July and $35 last August. Then the payments stopped.

As the several hundred-odd guests paraded through the "dream house" and stared at the Senator's black and orchid dream bathroom, Mrs. Bilbo was not among them.

STATE PRIDE

The Senate was considering Senator George Norris' Rural Electrification bill. By some mysterious process of mental gymnastics, North Carolina's mellifluous Bob Reynolds was inspired to launch into a glowing panegyric on the natural beauties of his state.

"In my beloved and heavenly section of western North Carolina," he rhapsodized, "there are presented for the national eye the most beautiful things to be found anywhere on this great hemisphere . . ."

Kentucky's Alben Barkley rose. "I will admit," hastily added Reynolds, "that our sister state of Kentucky likewise is possessed of a great natural beauty in the form of Mammoth Cave . . ."

New York's Bob Wagner rose. "And the state of New York," again added Reynolds, "also presents some of the most interesting historic places of this entire continent . . ."

Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming rose. "Yes, and I will agree," said Reynolds, catching the determined eye of O'Mahoney, "that Wyoming too can boast of the largest national park in America and some of the most beautiful scenery to be found anywhere . . ."

At this point peppery Carter Glass of Virginia interrupted: "I want to extend a cordial invitation to the Senator from North Carolina and others to forget their provincialism and visit my state. Virginia is the greatest state on earth."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

It looks like a busy year for Congressman John O'Connor, who has kept one jump ahead of the kick he was going to give Father Coughlin. Several prominent Tammanyites in the "gas house" district which he represents are being strongly urged to run against O'Connor on the ground that, although a Democrat and chairman of the House Rules Committee, he has opposed important New Deal legislation.

With All My Heart

BY SARA CHRISTY

"I had two good caretakers with me . . ."

He was the first to break the silence with: "I'm going to slow sudden for the gates, Miss Wilma. You and Miss Thora want to watch out for your noses."

The Marsh car had scarcely started picking up speed on the driveway than the second machine flashed by and disappeared.

"Please don't say anything to dad about that," Wilma urged, as she settled back in her place beside Thora. "I was only imagining things, and he's going to be provoked with me for bringing that bracelet this way."

The two had no sooner entered the house than Wilma caught at Thora's arm. "Come back to the library with me. I want a witness when I turn over my valuables. Dad will let me off easier, if you're with me."

Selwyn was in his library, but not alone. Sherman Gordon was seated on the other side of the big table. He rose to his feet at once as the two girls entered.

"Ah, the travelers have returned," he said. "You're another witness, Sherman. With Miss Dahl. Dad, I was in Edmond's today and brought out some of those things. She opened her bag and produced the bracelet in its case and three ring boxes. Marsh caught up the case with an impatient exclamation."

"What was anything but smart! Carrying things like that without any protection! Was that Edmond thinking of?"

"He wasn't much enthused," Wilma admitted easily. "But there was no danger. I had two good caretakers with me . . . and I wanted things out at home. Now, you see that's all right. It's up to you to take charge of them and see that nobody gets away with them."

"I'll do that . . . don't worry. I've a plan to lock them up where you can't get at them. Look at this, Sherman. Do you blame me?"

Gordon whistled under his breath as he examined the diamond circlet. "Some goosaw, if you ask me."

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES
This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Of Pain

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are one of Nature's chief ways of taking the acids and waste out of the blood. If they don't perform their duty, you get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing.

If you have trouble with frequent bladder passages with scanty urine, which often smart and burn, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffing under the eyes and discoloration.

Don't wait for serious trouble. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, which have been used successfully for over 40 years by millions of people. They give happy relief and will help flush out the 15 miles of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS.

A LOST RACE?
IN A period, some years ago, when agriculturists were more uncoddled than some modern critics now consider them to be, they raised large quantities of a variety of barley which had sharp, stinging spikes—for the thin skinned. This was particularly troublesome—but only for the thin-skinned—at threshing time.
According to Dr. Arnold S. Wahl, research specialist in matters relating to beer along came a generation of farmers who couldn't take it. They protested about these stiff beards on barley and called for help.
The State Agricultural Department of Minnesota, after extended experimentation, produced a cross-bred type of barley without spikes; a stingsless barley. Swiftly it displaced the old kind.
Since repeal of prohibition, Dr. Wahl finds, brewers have been worrying because some beer comes through their modern processes in good form, but some is poor. After much research, Dr. Wahl blames it on this dewhiskered barley. It does not, he insists, produce uniformly good beer.
So appeals are to be made to the United States Department of Agriculture to bring back resumption of cultivation of the old kind of barley which Dr. Wahl insists, played a vital part in making pre-war American beer the best in the world.
But where will they grow the tough-skinned farmers as of old to "wrastle" with spiky barley and not care a hoot?

IMPOTENT INTELLECTUALS
A NIPPONESE authority is quoted as saying that Japan will not go to war. "Ninety-nine per cent of Japan's intellectuals oppose it," he blandly remarks.
The trouble is that Japan's intellectuals aren't in the government saddle. The Mikado is tops, and he is vigorously supported by the militaristic clique of army and navy officers.
What chance would the intellectuals have of stopping a war if the Japanese jingoists and professional patrioters wanted it?
The answer is—no chance at, at least until the intellectuals become a great deal more numerous and powerful than they are at the present time.

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

BILBO OPENS "DREAM HOUSE"
Theodore G. Bilbo, rabble-rousing Senator from Mississippi, opened his "dream house" at Poplarville some time ago, treating all who came to see him to 100 pounds of cheese, 800-five cent cigars, 600 tins of sardines, five gallons of dill pickles, and ten cases of crackers.
The house-warming was reminiscent of the Senator's one-time diet of sardines and crackers; and the "dream house" was the fulfillment of his dream to erect a mansion near the log cabin in which he was born.
The "dream house" contains twenty-seven rooms, and five bathrooms tiled in brilliant colors.
While the house was being built, Mrs. Bilbo was suing the Senator for non-support, claiming that he had not supported her for more than two years.
Because of political embarrassment to her husband, Mrs. Bilbo finally withdrew the suit, with the understanding that she receive an allowance. For a time this allowance was paid—$115 last July and $35 last August. Then the payments stopped.
As the several hundred-odd guests paraded through the "dream house" and stared at the Senator's black and orchid dream bathroom, Mrs. Bilbo was not among them.

STATE PRIDE
The Senate was considering Senator George Norris' Rural Electrification bill. By some mysterious process of mental gymnastics, North Carolina's mellifluous Bob Reynolds was inspired to launch into a glowing panegyric on the natural beauties of his state.
"In my beloved and heavenly section of western North Carolina," he rhapsodized, "there are presented for the national eye the most beautiful things to be found anywhere on this great hemisphere . . ."
Kentucky's Alben Barkley rose.
"I will admit," hastily added Reynolds, "that our sister state of Kentucky likewise is possessed of a great natural beauty in the form of Mammoth Cave . . ."
New York's Bob Wagner rose.
"And the state of New York," again added Reynolds, "also presents some of the most interesting historic places of this entire continent . . ."
Senator O'Mahoney of Wyoming rose.
"Yes, and I will agree," said Reynolds, catching the determined eye of O'Mahoney, "that Wyoming too can boast of the largest national park in America and some of the most beautiful scenery to be found anywhere . . ."
At this point peppery Carter Glass of Virginia interrupted:
"I want to extend a cordial invitation to the Senator from North Carolina and others to forget their provincialism and visit my state. Virginia is the greatest state on earth."

MERRY-GO-ROUND
It looks like a busy year for Congressman John O'Connor, who has kept one jump ahead of the kick he was going to give Father Coughlin. Several prominent Tammanyites in the "gas house" district which he represents are being strongly urged to run against O'Connor on the ground that, although a Democrat and chairman of the House Rules Committee, he has opposed important New Deal legislation.

WORLD AT A GLANCE
Financial men in New York and London apparently do not fear war so much as something else in German quarters. That is, repudiation of debt-payment agreements—debts to bankers, not to governments.
The Reichsbank's reserves have fallen to a record low mark. There might have been an economic upheaval in Germany, as thoroughly regimented as it is, if Reichsfuehrer Hitler had not raised German spirits by reoccupying the Rhineland with troops.
No outsider can appraise the economic situation of Germany—or of Italy.
Both those nations require commodities (literally food to eat and basic elements for manufacture) from other nations. Commodity prices are rising steadily.
Only those who live in a nation short of raw resources can realize the strain, the ingenuity—and, eventually, the desperation.
Germany's creditors have not even sold her all she has desired. They have feared that she has asked for too much—in order to deplete her reserves to such an extent she could refuse further payment of her debts.
Thus, though Germany has broken the fetters of the hated Versailles treaty, she still remains bounden to her creditors—the largest of whom is Great Britain.
WAR? NO
If the matter is left for British bankers to decide—and they have considerable of a voice in the present Tory government—Great Britain will not back France too strongly against Germany.
A country at war doesn't pay its debts. Likewise, a nation too tightly bound doesn't pay its debts.
CONCERN OVER FRANCE
In regard to France, the real concern in financial circles is not so much over a war. The fear is that France, also, may become desperate financially.
France finally will have to go off the gold standard, it is believed. With the devaluation of the franc, readjustments of currency values may have to be made throughout the world. But how violent will France's financial breakdown be? How far will readjustments have to go?
France, furthermore, is entering an exciting election campaign. She may go to the left with a vengeance.
That probably would sober Germany. Such movements do not stop at borders. Besides, a Leftist France tied up to a Leftist Russia with that much-discussed defensive pact, would be a combination that might sweep all through continental Europe. For example, as goes France, so goes Poland, etc.
BRITAIN
In the meantime, the British are having their own spending spree. For the size of England, the amount of money being spent by the government surpasses American expenditures. "Prosperity" reigns. On government money. Government money being spent for armaments.
The United States also spends a billion for armaments—but the other billions go for non-military purposes.

With All My Heart

CHAPTER 36
WILMA BLEW a thread of smoke into the air contemplatively as she talked to Thora of her approaching wedding as Pat drove them back from town to Fair Acres.
"It's a funny thing, Thora . . . but I'm terribly fed up with all this fuss and bother. I wish it were over with. I want to get away. And then . . . if I don't like it . . ." Wilma shrugged her slim shoulders and tossed away her cigaret. "You think I'm rather hopeless, don't you?"
"I think I feel sorry for you," Thora answered soberly.
"You needn't. Perhaps I am cynical about the whole thing; but I come by that honestly. If I get burnt, it will be my own fault . . . and just too bad."
"Do you plan to be married soon?" Thora asked hesitatingly. She hoped that Wilma would say no. Something might happen . . . It seemed such a terrible thing for a girl to do. To marry a man, knowing that she didn't love him. And not caring. Wilma answered the question unhesitatingly.
"Yes. Between you and me, sooner than anyone else thinks. You see" again that mirthless laugh. "I think I'm cooling off. I got a thrill out of it, at first. The excitement it gave the other girls, and all that. I got a kick out of seeing how envious a lot of them were. But I'm fed up now. I could even when I think of Aunt Dorothy's dinner. Some old frumps who have known me ever since I was a kid . . . Dad making a speech and loathing the whole thing as much as I do. I don't know why I'm worrying you with all of this . . . but I've felt these past few days that I'd blow up, if I couldn't take it out on somebody."
"I think you are afraid . . . of yourself."
"Not a chance, my dear. I'm just fed up. That's all. Alec feels the same way. We've decided we'll slip away before long and get it over with. I don't want to burden your conscience with the plot, but you'll probably be called in to administer first aid to the family. I know that I can trust you."
"Yes, you can trust me. I hope that you'll be happy . . . I hope it so much."
"Thanks," Wilma leaned forward. Her hand came out and gave Thora's fingers a little squeeze. "Don't bother that blond head of yours about me. I'm not worth it. When your time comes . . . you'll do better. I can even imagine your being . . . happy." She said the last word with a quick glance over her shoulder through the rear window of the machine. "Oh, Pat!"
"Yes, Miss Wilma."
"That car has been trailing us for the past 20 minutes. Pull away from it, please."
"I'll try it."
"We got more'n they have," Pat called back a moment later. "Want me to keep it up?"
"Yes," Wilma's voice was sharp. "Don't look back," she cautioned, smiling at Thora's startled expression. "It's nothing. Just nerves. I happened to remember my valuables, that's all."
"They're the persistent evils," Pat observed a moment later, after a glance at his rear-vision glass. "They must think you're a race. You still want to keep up front, Miss Wilma?"
"Yes."
"Okay. I can do that. If you don't want to see their back plates, I'll hog the road if I have to. It's only a few miles now."
Nothing more was said as the machine fled along the smooth pike under Donahue's skillful handling.

"I had two good caretakers with me . . ."

He was the first to break the silence with: "I'm going to slow sudden for the gates, Miss Wilma. You and Miss Thora want to watch out for your noses."

The Marsh car had scarcely started picking up speed on the driveway than the second machine flashed by and disappeared.

"Please don't say anything to dad about that," Wilma urged, as she settled back in her place beside Thora. "I was only imagining things, and he's going to be provoked with me for bringing that bracelet this way."

The two had no sooner entered the house than Wilma caught at Thora's arm.

"Come back to the library with me. I want a witness when I turn over my valuables. Dad will let me off easier, if you're with me."

Selwyn was in his library, but not alone. Sherman Gordon was seated on the other side of the big table. He rose to his feet at once as the two girls entered.

"Ah, the travelers have returned," he said. "And how," Wilma answered carelessly. "You're another witness, Sherman. With Miss Dahl. Dad, I was in Edmond's today and brought out some of those things." She opened her bag and produced the bracelet in its case and three ring boxes. Marsh caught up the case with an impatient exclamation.

"That was anything but smart! Carrying this thing out here without any protection! What was Edmond thinking of?"

"He wasn't much enthused," Wilma admitted easily. "But there was no danger. I had two good caretakers with me . . . and I wanted the things out at home. Now, you see they're all right. It's up to you to take charge of them and see that nobody gets away with them."

"I'll do that," don't worry. I've a notion to lock them up where you can't get at them. Look at this, Sherman. Do you blame me?"

Gordon whistled under his breath as he examined the diamond circlet. "Some gee-gaw, if you ask me."

Here, take it back. I hope you have a good combination on your safe, Selwyn."

"I guess it would bother an amateur, provided he could find it."

"All right. Don't tell me which panel it's behind. I don't want to know. What's that other trinket, Wilma?"

"Alec's ring." She held out her left hand for the two men to see. "You didn't see this, either, Miss Dahl," she reminded.

Gordon's compliment. "I thought the lucky man was supposed to put it on your finger, ill omen . . . all that sort of thing."

"That's hopelessly passe," Wilma returned wearily. "The country is getting up, Sherman. I'm taking this one," she told her father. "You look up the other." She turned and left the room, followed by Thora.

Selwyn sat smoking silently after the girls disappeared, his eyes fixed on the jewel case. Gordon watched him curiously, wondering what was passing through his mind—if old memories were associated with those costly trinkets. He was surprised when Marsh spoke suddenly, in guarded tones.

"I had a report today on . . . you know."

"Good?"

"Perfectly . . . for a start, they said. I suppose they mean the passports and that sort of thing were in order. They're back-tracking through their correspondence in London. I guess it's all a waste of time and money."

"I imagine so."

"I've had several talks with the chap. He seems to have a pretty level head for business. He's away now on a matter that sounds very attractive to me. I believe he's all right . . . just different from what we're used to."

Gordon chuckled. He nodded at the jewelry.

"I'll say he's all right. Any man who had that stuff in his fingers and was on his way to the train . . . He's bound to be all right."

Mrs. R. L. Barton, president, was in charge of the business session during which plans were discussed to use some of the P. T. A. funds to aid in a township health clinic and also improvements in the school house.

The program which followed consisted of vocal numbers by Ray Beery and an interesting and beneficial talk by Mrs. B. W. Young of Pickaway-twp.

Mrs. Young used as her subject, "Lasting Values or a Search for Worth." She said that complications today between worth and cheapness is keen and constant, and that we need to emphasize worth in rural homes and rural boys and girls, teaching them there is beauty in simple life if they have real joy in their work and if they are willing to invest themselves in service for others.

She gave three rules for success—hard work, hard study, and in all things do your best. She stated that we need to choose for ourselves and our young people constructive pleasures.

Roosevelt's Radio Voice Perfect; Others Discussed

Major Political Campaigns to Give Listeners Opportunity to Hear All Candidates; Howard, Shelton Appear

WITH THE approach of spring we may expect the two major political parties to wheel up some of their biggest guns and begin firing—and a good many of these shots probably will be heard over the radio networks.

This year more than ever before—there are a great many more sets in existence than in 1932—a considerable number of voters will be visualizing the personalities and values of these presidential candidates solely by what they hear these candidates say over the air and how they say it.

President Roosevelt is certain to be the Democratic candidate. His voice, "clean," well-pitched and friendly is familiar to everyone. But what about the outstanding Republican nominee possibilities?

Now You Can Buy Your New RCA Victor Radio ON THE LOWEST RATE OF INTEREST FOR CARRYING CHARGES EVER OFFERED IN PICKAWAY COUNTY.

COME in and let us tell you about this new low interest rate on deferred payments of the new RCA Victors. The rate we are offering is the lowest in the county and can be obtained only at the Circleville Furniture Co. We also give a liberal trade-in allowance on your old radio when you trade it for a RCA Victor. Let us show you how easy it will be for you to purchase one of these sensational new radios.

What a combination of features—features that spell complete radio enjoyment such as only the latest advances can give. This fine-looking RCA Victor is a 7 tube superheterodyne. It brings you standard broadcasts, police, aviation and amateur communications and foreign broadcasts in five important bands. # Roosevelt's Radio Voice Perfect; Others Discussed

Political Campaigns to Give Listeners Opportunity to Hear All Candidates; Howard, Shelton Appear

WITH THE approach of spring we may expect the two major political parties to wheel up some of their biggest guns and begin firing—and a good many of these shots probably will be heard over the radio networks.

This year more than ever before—there are a great many more sets in existence than in 1932—a considerable number of voters will be visualizing the personalities and values of these presidential candidates solely by what they hear the candidates say over the air and how they say it.

President Roosevelt is certain to be the Democratic candidate. His voice, "clear," well-pitched and friendly is familiar to everyone. But what about the outstanding Republican nominee possibilities?

Senator Arthur Vandenberg, a consummate orator who, however, needs to more closely adapt his voice to the microphone. Governor Alfred Landon—another high-pitched voice. Virtually no radio color. Senator L. J. Dickinson—a voice almost too strong for the medium of the microphone. Could be improved. Ex-President Herbert Hoover—a kindly, jocular voice, greatly improved over the days when he was in the White House.

COME in and let us tell you about this new low interest rate on deferred payments of the new RCA Victors. The rate we are offering is the lowest in the county and can be obtained only at the Circleville Furniture Co. We also give a liberal trade-in allowance on your old radio when you trade it for a RCA Victor. Let us show you how easy it will be for you to purchase one of these sensational new radios.

All this for a price exceptionally low.

HERE ARE how the air voices of six outstanding G. O. Possibilities sound to one person. You may disagree.

Senator William E. Borah—a clear, deliberate speech of high dramatic quality and warmly emotional.

Publisher Frank Knox—a thin voice, pitched too high for good radiatory. Little color.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg, a consummate orator who, however, needs to more closely adapt his voice to the microphone.

Governor Alfred Landon—another high-pitched voice. Virtually no radio color.

Senator L. J. Dickinson—a voice almost too strong for the medium of the microphone. Could be improved.

CHILlicothe AND DOVER DEFEATED IN CAGE MEETS

Pomeroy and Bridgeport Turn Tricks; Marietta Looms as Powerful

COLUMBUS, March 12.—(UP)—Scholastic quintets in two districts that annually produce some of Ohio's strongest schoolboy teams will resume their battle for places in the annual state high school tournament today.

The Northeastern and the Southwestern sections of the state yearly send outstanding combinations to the final meet and this season they have again developed representatives that figure to be powers in the state tournament.

Winners Decided

Two of the ranking combinations of the state play for the right to enter the scholastic classic today at Kent when the strong Canton McKinley team faces Warren, and Akron Buchtel's fine quintet engages Girard. The winners of the two games come direct to the state meet.

In the Southwestern district, Dayton Roosevelt, winner of the title in 1934, will attempt to continue its drive for another championship when it faces Greenville. Another ranking Dayton school, Kiser, plays Xenia in the co-feature.

At Toledo, Woodward, the city titlist, meets Sylvania, and Walte engages St. John. Woodward is favored to emerge as the ultimate entrant in the state tournament.

Play in the remaining centers re-opens Friday.

A quintet that was highly regarded as a championship possibility was eliminated last night in the Eastern district when Doyers fell before Bridgeport by a 36 to 33 score.

In the Southeastern District, Pomeroy's unbeaten team defeated Chillicothe 16 to 11 in a great defensive battle.

Marietta demonstrated it must be considered a title threat when it turned back Portsmouth 32 to 19.

BILL EVANS NAMES TIGERS TO REPEAT

By BILLY EVANS
"HOLD THAT TIGER!"

So go the words of a popular song. This year that will be the battle cry of seven teams in the American league.

Detroit Tigers is the club they must beat in the American league to win the pennant. The world champions must be given the edge to repeat for many reasons, among them being the fact they are the world champs, full of confidence.

Detroit is not a great team by any means, but it is a very good team. For several years a very good team has carried enough power to finish out in front in the American league. It does not seem to me that the several other good teams in the league have strengthened enough to displace the Tigers at the top. The Boston Red Sox have made strenuous efforts in that direction.

About This And That In Many Sports

Wagner Tough Man

Circleville Athletic Club cagers are going to get their eyes filled with a tall, lithe, black-haired cager named Norman Wagner. Friday evening, when the Columbus Clover Farm stores quintet comes here—Mr. Wagner does everything, and does it well.

Guarded W. Roberts

He, and Harold Todd, were the only ball players who did anything to the Waterloo Wonders last night—They were the only cagers able to score, and they seemed to be the only ones trying—The Wonders trailed 15-19 at halftime but knocked off the ball game, 41-29—Wagner plays either center or forward with reckless abandon—He shoots, long and short, follows shots to a fare-thee-well, and in the art of defense, he can play a little ball, holding Wyman Roberts to a bucket and two foul tosses in last night's fray.

Merriman Had 'Nuff'

Eve Merriman, Club guard, was asked if he wanted to see the game last night—Eve made a proper reply: "I saw enough of Waterloo last week and I'll probably get enough of Clover Farms Friday night, so I don't believe I'm interested."

Free Groceries

There'll be several baskets of groceries given away during the ball game by Clover Farm stores, and free dancing is promised after the game.

Chillicothe Ired

Chillicothe newspapers are rather stirred up because a press association writer picked Pomeroy, Chillicothe foe, as the team to beat in the southeastern Ohio district tournament—This district sends only one team to the state meet while several other districts, of fewer strong teams, get to send two—It doesn't seem fair.

Rather Hit Pitching

Here's a record—A canvass of the Cincinnati ball club finds nary an athlete who wants to take a smack at Dizzy "The Great" Dean—"We'll be mighty pleased if we are able to hit his pitching, let alone hit him," was the consensus of opinion.

LEWIS AND M'AVOY END TRAINING FOR CONTEST

NEW YORK, March 12.—(UP)—John Henry Lewis, Los Angeles negro, world light-heavyweight champion, and Jock McAvoy, British empire middleweight and light-heavyweight titleholder, will conclude training today for their 15-round title bout in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

BARNEY ROSS VICTOR

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 12.—(UP)—World welterweight champion Barney Ross won a 10-round decision over Gordon Wallace of Vancouver, Canadian 145-pound champion, here last night. Fans booed the decision.

SCHOOLS CLEAR MORE THAN $500 IN TOURNAMENT

Over $1,100 Paid for Admissions; Fourth Session Helps Boost Receipts

The Pickaway-co class B basketball tournament, recently held in the Athletic Club gymnasium, is expected to show a profit of about $530, figures in Supt. G. D. McDowell's office disclosed Thursday.

Profit a year ago was $417.52. Each school was given a check for $25 at a superintendent's meeting last Saturday. The remainder of the money remains in a fund to finance the spring track and field meet and the oratorical contest.

Ashville boys and Pickaway-two girls won the basketball tournament.

HANK GREENBERG RATED AS HOLDOUT NUMBER 1

NEW YORK, March 12.—(UP)—The Major's No. 1 holdout is not Dizzy Dean, but Hank Greenberg, the Detroit Tigers' first baseman and the American league's most valuable player.

Dizzy has out-talked, out-threatened and out-headlined Greenberg, but the Tigers' big slugger means serious business. He doesn't intend to report to the Detroit camp until he gets his price. Dizzy is already in the Cards' camp at Bradenton, Fla., and is only talking for publication. The Cardinals aren't worrying about Dean. They are letting him wear himself out with threats, challenges and boasts. When he's through Branch Rickey will sign him. The Tigers are worrying plenty about Greenberg.

Their latest move designed to smoke out Greenberg is promise of a bonus to each player now signed if they win the pennant again. Only players now in camp will cut in on this $50,000 melon, planned by Walter O. Briggs, new club owner. Greenberg can share in this bonus only by special dispensation of Briggs.

Occupants of New York's skyscrapers are fearfully put out by the strike of elevator operators and other building employees. One of the penalties of high living.

BEULAH'S SPRING MEET SCHEDULED TO OPEN MAY 9

COLUMBUS, March 12.—(UP)—Beulah Park, Columbus, today was granted the first permit of the year for a running horse meeting by the Ohio Racing commission. The dates for the meet are May 9 to June 6.

Other tracks which have applied for dates are: Thistle-down, running meet, 37 days from July 4 to Aug. 15; Berea, night trotting meet, 20 days from July 6 to July 25; Northampton, running meet, 19 days from June 13 to July 4; Cranwood, trotting meet, 13 days from June 13 to June 27; and North Randall, trotting meet, 12 days from June 29 to July 11.

The commission was reported to have declined to grant dates to the Canfield track, near Youngstown, until it completes an investigation of "fixed" races last summer.

Mussolini sees victory at hand and defies the League of Nations to stop him. Well, it's a lot harder to stop a man when he's winning than when he's losing.

A fashion note says beach costumes will be unchanged this season, which means that in comparison Gunga Din would look like an over-dressed prude.

REVOLTA AND PICARD FAVORED IN PLAYOFF

MIAMI, Fla., March 12.—(UP)—Johnny Revolta and Henry Picard, the youthful defending titlists and Gene Sarazen and Jimmy Hines, second choice for victory, will meet today in 36 holes for the championship of the 12th annual four-ball golf matches.

If Revolta, the P.G.A. champion, and Picard are able to continue the dazzling best-ball pace they set in preliminary rounds of the match-play tournament, it is hard to see that they can be defeated.

PAPER COMPANY LISTS

PROFIT OF $107,143

CHILlicothe, March 12.—Net profit of the Chillicothe Paper Co. in 1935 totalled $107,143, stockholders were informed at their annual meeting.

Officers of the company are: Hector McVicker, president and general manager; Austin P. Story, vice president and treasurer; E. F. Bearce, vice president and chief engineer; and Lyle Evans, treasurer. A $100,000 building program is now under way.

TEAM WORK

The City Loan has long been recognized for its liberal Loan Plan to Farmers. For a quarter of a century The City Loan has "pulled together" with the farmers of Ohio, advancing them cash-credit, enabling them to carry on to greater profits.

Rural borrowers have always received the very best deal The City Loan has to offer. Loans are made in amounts of $25 to $1000. You can make moderate monthly payments, or your loan can have a "full-year-to-run" without principal reduction. There is no fixed rule about it. Repayment is scheduled to fit your exact needs.

CHILICOTHE AND DOVER DEFEATED IN CAGE MEETS

Pomeroy and Bridgeport Turn Tricks; Marietta Looms as Powerful

COLUMBUS, March 12.—(UP)—Scholastic quintets in two districts that annually produce some of Ohio's strongest schoolboy teams will resume their battle for place in the annual state high school tournament today.

The Northeastern and the Southwestern sections of the state yearly send outstanding combinations to the final meet and this season they have again developed representatives that figure to be powers in the state tournament.

Winners Decided
Two of the ranking combinations of the state play for the right to enter the scholastic classic today at Kent when the strong Canton McKinley team faces Warren, and Akron Buchtel's fine quintet engages Girard. The winners of the two games come direct to the state meet.

In the Southwestern district, Dayton Roosevelt, winner of the title in 1934, will attempt to continue its drive for another championship when it faces Greenville. Another ranking Dayton school, Kiser, plays Xenia in the co-feature.

At Toledo, Woodward, the city titlist, meets Sylvania, and Waite engages St. John. Woodward is favored to emerge as the ultimate entrant in the state tournament.

Play in the remaining centers re-opens Friday.
A quintet that was highly regarded as a championship possibility was eliminated last night in the Eastern district when Dover fell before Bridgeport, by a 36 to 33 score.

In the Southeastern district, Pomeroy's unbeaten team defeated Chillicothe 16 to 11 in a great defensive battle.

Marietta demonstrated it must be considered a title threat when it turned back Portsmouth 32 to 18.

BILL EVANS NAMES TIGERS TO REPEAT

By BILLY EVANS
"HOLD THAT TIGER!"
So go the words of a popular song. This year that will be the battle cry of seven teams in the American league.

Detroit Tigers is the club they must beat in the American league to win the pennant. The world champions must be given the edge to repeat for many reasons, among them being the fact they are the world champs, full-of-confidence.

Detroit is not a great team by any means, but it is a very good team. For several years a very good team has carried enough power to finish out in front in the American league. It does not seem to me that the several other good teams in the league have strengthened enough to displace the Tigers at the top. The Boston Red Sox have made strenuous efforts in that direction.

About This And That In Many Sports

Wagner Tough Man

Circleville Athletic Club cagers are going to get their eyes filled with a tall, lithe, black-haired cager named Norman Wagner. Friday evening, when the Columbus Clover Farm stores quintet comes here—Mr. Wagner does everything, and does it well.

Guarded W. Roberts

He, and Harold Todd, were the only ball players who did anything to the Waterloo Wonders last night. They were the only cagers able to score, and they seemed to be the only ones trying. The Wonders trailed 15-19 at halftime but knocked off the ball game, 41-29. Wagner plays either center or forward with reckless abandon. He shoots, long and short, follows shots to a fare-thee-well, and in the art of defense, he can play a little ball, holding Wyman Roberts to a bucket and two foul tosses in last night's fray.

Merriman Had 'Nuff'

Eve Merriman, Club guard, was asked if he wanted to see the game last night—Eve made a proper reply: "I saw enough of Waterloo last week and I'll probably get enough of Clover Farms Friday night, so I don't believe I'm interested."

Free Groceries

There'll be several baskets of groceries given away during the hall game by Clover Farm stores, and free dancing is promised after the game.

Chillicothe Ired

Chillicothe newspapers are rather stirred up because a press association writer picked Pomeroy, Chillicothe foe, as the team to beat in the southeastern Ohio district tournament. This district sends only one team to the state meet while several other districts, of fewer strong teams, get to send two. It doesn't seem fair.

Rather Hit Pitching

Here's a record—A canvass of the Cincinnati ball club finds many an athlete who wants to take a smack at Dizzy "The Great" Dean. "We'll be mighty pleased if we are able to hit his pitching, let alone hit him," was the consensus of opinion.

LEWIS AND M'AVOY END TRAINING FOR CONTEST

NEW YORK, March 12.—(UP)—John Henry Lewis, Los Angeles negro, world light-heavyweight champion, and Jock McAvoy, British empire middleweight and light-heavyweight titleholder, will conclude training today for their 15-round title bout in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

BARNEY ROSS VICTOR

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 12.—(UP)—World welterweight champion Barney Ross won a 10-round decision over Gordon Wallace of Vancouver, Canadian 145-pound champion, here last night. Fans booed the decision.

SCHOOLS CLEAR MORE THAN $500 IN TOURNAMENT

Over $1,100 Paid for Admissions; Fourth Session Helps Boost Receipts

The Pickaway-co class B basketball tournament, recently held in the Athletic Club gymnasium, is expected to show a profit of about $530, figures in Supt. G. D. McDowell's office disclosed Thursday.

Profit a year ago was $417.52. Each school was given a check for $25 at a superintendent's meeting last Saturday. The remainder of the money remains in a fund to finance the spring track and field meet and the oratorical contest.

Ashville boys and Pickaway-two girls won the basketball tournament.

HANK GREENBERG RATED AS HOLDOUT NUMBER 1

NEW YORK, March 12.—(UP)—The Major's No. 1 holdout is not Dizzy Dean, but Hank Greenberg, the Detroit Tigers' first baseman and the American league's most valuable player.

Dizzy has out-talked, out-threatened and out-headlined Greenberg, but the Tigers' big slugger means serious business. He doesn't intend to report to the Detroit camp until he gets his price. Dizzy is already in the Cards' camp at Bradenton, Fla., and is only talking for publication.

The Cardinals aren't worrying about Dean. They are letting him wear himself out with threats, challenges and boasts. When he's through Branch Rickey will sign him. The Tigers are worrying plenty about Greenberg.

Their latest move designed to smoke out Greenberg is promise of a bonus to each player now signed if they win the pennant again. Only players now in camp will cut in on this $50,000 melon, planned by Walter O. Briggs, new club owner. Greenberg can share in this bonus only by special dispensation of Briggs.

Occupants of New York's skyscrapers are fearfully put out by the strike of elevator operators and other building employees. One of the penalties of high living.

BEULAH'S SPRING MEET SCHEDULED TO OPEN MAY 9

COLUMBUS, March 12.—(UP)—Beulah Park, Columbus, today was granted the first permit of the year for a running horse meeting by the Ohio Racing commission. The dates for the meet are May 9 to June 6.

Other tracks which have applied for dates are: Thistedown, running meet, 37 days from July 4 to Aug. 15; Berea, night trotting meet, 20 days from July 6 to July 25; Northampton, running meet, 19 days from June 13 to July 4; Cranwood, trotting meet, 13 days from June 13 to June 27; and North Randall, trotting meet, 12 days from June 29 to July 11.

The commission was reported to have declined to grant dates to the Canfield track, near Youngstown, until it completes an investigation of "fixed" races last summer.

Mussolini sees victory at hand and defies the League of Nations to stop him. Well, it's a lot harder to stop a man when he's winning than when he's losing.

A fashion note says beach costumes will be unchanged this season, which means that in comparison Gunga Din would look like an over-dressed prude.

REVOLTA AND PICARD FAVORED IN PLAYOFF

MIAMI, Fla., March 12.—(UP)—Johnny Revolta and Henry Picard, the youthful defending titlists and Gene Sarazen and Jimmy Hines, second choice for victory, will meet today in 36 holes for the championship of the 12th annual four-ball golf matches.

If Revolta, the P.G.A. champion, and Picard are able to continue the dawning best-ball pace they set in preliminary rounds of the match-play tournament, it is hard to see that they can be defeated.
